

Central Hairdressing Academy Annual Awards Evening

The Arlington Rooms

With special guests Joshua Galvin and Tony Rizzo, Founder of the Alternative Hair Show

The Arlington Rooms played host to what was undoubtedly the most glamorous awards evening that Central Hairdressing Academy had ever held.

No expense was spared for the newly graduated hairdressers! The evening started with a champagne reception and canapés followed by an inspiring speech by two hairdressing legends Joshua Galvin and Tony Rizzo (owner of the San Rizz group).

Over 60 graduates that had passed their Level 2 in Hairdressing received their certificates to rapturous applause. Each one in turn taking to the stage for a photo with the two legends of their industry.

Special awards went to:

Gemma Layzell (The Big Yin, Southend),
Holly Ridpath (Secrets, Rayleigh),
Luke Williamson (Winslows, Shenfield),
Tammy Nicholls (Changes, Southend),
Serena Melly and Holly Bellamy (Central College).

Each of the Special Awards winners received an Oscar style Trophy and a quality pair of Cutting Scissors.

Gemma Layzell said, “This is the best night I have ever had in my hairdressing career.”

Andrew Wright, Managing Director of Central Training Group said, “The night has been perfect, I would personally like to thank all my staff and the Arlington Rooms for their hard work in arranging this magnificent event.

I think it’s important that we celebrate the achievements and hard work of all the new graduates, especially in the current climate.”

Andrew Wright then closed the awards ceremony, before all the newly graduated hairdressers, special guests and Central staff danced the night away with music from 80’s classic DJ Paul Standen.

A raffle held during the evening raised £300 for Little Havens Hospice and Leukaemia Research.
